

H.O.P.E for Sunny Skies (Helping with Obstacles Parents Endure) was developed to help reduce the number of children that come into CPS (Child Protective Services) custody and to educate parents who have never been involved with CPS. Our goal is to provide intensive, hands-on parenting classes, on-site individual and family therapy, as well as play therapy and visitation coaching. We would also like to be able to provide court-ordered parenting classes to all families whether for CPS cases or divorce cases. We hope to work as a community monitor with families where CPS intervention may not be the best option.

The families we aim to serve are low-income families that without the services provided through H.O.P.E. for Sunny Skies, would have limited access to information needed to help improve their parental capabilities and maintain a healthy home environment. Almost all of the families that are involved with CPS are of Hispanic or African American descent, and many live in households where there is little to no support system and little knowledge of parenting.

Often times, our parents do not receive information about parenting programs designed to help their family structure remain stable because of lack of resources in the community, in the Richmond/Rosenberg area. So, it is certain that the families will welcome the opportunity to participate in a program, such as H.O.P.E. for Sunny Skies, that helps them improve their parental capability and whose mission is to provide parents with knowledge on child development, co-parenting, and the stressors of parenting to prevent abuse and neglect of their children.

H.O.P.E. is excited to be hosting a "Halloween at Home" Halloween event. This event will provide a safe and family oriented Halloween experience where parents and children can enjoy the holiday in the comfort of their own home. We are garnering support from our community to help us make this event a success. We are requesting monetary or event related donations to ensure that all essential items are provided for the families that attend this event. The items/donations will go solely towards the hosted event.

We appreciate and look forward to your assistance as we continue to strive for healthy family structure in our community. Furthermore, we are grateful for your interest in working with us as we strive to enhance our service and commitment to our parents and children. Again, thank you, and please contact us at 281-720-6611, for additional information regarding our program.

Sincerely,
